

Title: Ka hoki tāua ki te whare huri ai ē!

Editors: Agnes McFarland and Tairahia Black.

Language: Te reo Māori

Pages: 150 pp

Cover: Colour, soft

Text: B+W

Price: 39.95 (incl GST)

ISBN: 978-1-927231-46-3

Release: Launch date 26 September

Agnes McFarland is a lecturer in professional studies in education (part of the Faculty of Education) at the University of Waikato. Tairahia Black is Professor, School of Māori Studies, Massey University

“Kia hoki ake au ki aku tuara totara Ki te whakairinga o aku kōrero.”

Ko ta te whare, ko ta te rohe rānei, he whakaohoho ake i ngā mea kua moe roa ki roto i a koe. Ka titiro atu koe ki tētahi mea, ki tētahi whenua, ki tētahi awa, ki tētahi kāinga, ki tētahi tangata ka hokia mai anō aua whakaaro me ngā āhuatanga i kite ai koe i te wā i a koe e tamariki ana. Ka tīkina atu e koe i roto i te hinengaro, i roto i ōu mahara, ka whakaohohotia ake e koe. Koirā te wā kua ihi, kua wehi mai ki roto i a koe. Kai roto i tēneki pukapuka e kitea ai te wairua o te kupu, a tēnā kaiwhakairo i te kupu, whakaniko i te kupu ātaahua o roto mai i te rohe o Matāatua.

(English): This collection of essays explores histories, people and places of significance, and takes the reader into the oral arts, including haka, karakia, and waiata. It is a valuable, instructive and entertaining read for students, speakers and readers of te reo Māori, and an important addition to secondary and tertiary libraries.

Published jointly by NZCER / NZARE For more details and to order go to www.nzcer.org.nz